FROM A MOD HOME MAKEOVER TO AN IN-CITY VACATION, HERE'S WHERE (AND HOW) TO LIVE AND STAY IN

LUXE LIGHTING

Internationally-renowned architectural lighting manufacturer, Louis Poulsen recently opened a sparkling showroom—their first in the US—at the Helms Bakery District in Culver City to bring their unique indoor and outdoor lighting designs to the professional and private markets in LA. Louis Poulsen's philosophy is to create a functional lighting environment that provides comfort and ambience to discerning consumers and their surroundings. The new location features iconic and sustainable products with modern and sleek designs to suit an array of architecture styles and aesthetic tastes.
